Dear Parents and Children,

I hope this letter finds you all safe and well. We really miss all of you but, each day, we remember that we are a step closer to all being back together again; we CANNOT wait!

Boys and girls, all of your teachers say, "Hello". We hope you are being good for your parents and have enjoyed playing in your gardens whilst the sun is shining. I am looking forward to hearing all about the things you said you would be doing: learning new skills (like den building, saying some words in another language and cooking); practising your reading and times tables; and tidying your bedrooms. Don't forget that you all promised to help your mums and dads and not to argue with your brothers and sisters!

Mums and dads, parents and carers, we realise these are difficult times. The home learning packs and resources provided on the website are there to support you. Use them as little or as much as you want to. There is no minimum or maximum amount that is expected. I would like to draw your attention to a new area of the website where teachers have left messages for the children and uploaded some videos of us reading stories and even a keepy uppy challenge! There is a new tab on the home page of the website called classwork - handouts. There are two links within this; one will take you to updates that have been added by staff. The other takes you to a list of helpful websites for home learning. We hope you find this helpful. We will keep this page updated as best we can. Teachers are also setting challenges on Purple Mash. Again, use this to support where it is helpful but if you prefer doing different things, that is fine too. Please keep reading everyday though!

Whilst we are not altogether, we are still here to support. Please do not hesitate to contact me if there is anything we can do to support you. Wishing you all the very best in health and happiness.

Yours sincerely,
